

The School of Communication Studies

KUDOS & CELEBRATIONS!

SEPTEMBER 2022

Let's give Kudos to the Following Members of our CMST Community!

- Julie Hartung just submitted an article to a journal call for the first time! Their article, "Breaking Binaries: A Deconstruction of Binary vs. Nonbinary Gender" was submitted to WSQ for a special issue about nonbinary identities. The special issue will be published next fall.
- T Brown, our Speaker's Center Coordinator, facilitated a Speaking with Confidence workshop for The University Honors Program on September 28th.
- Carli Álvarez was the keynote speaker at the 1st annual GSA Summit that took place at SIU on September 10th. The event was co-sponsored by Rainbow Café, Centerstone, and the SIU School of Medicine's Center for Rural Health and Social Service Development.
- Kashaun Altman was able to represent The School of Communication Studies and SIU at the National Millennial and Gen Z Community Summit in New York City this past month. While there, Kashaun was able to meet with major organizations like AdClub New York and Nielsen Media! See a picture of Kashaun in NYC below!

I ♥ NY

Let's Congratulate the Following Members of our CMST Community!

- Zoë Freedkin had a fantastic run of her show, Left on Read, in the Kleinau Theatre. The show was written and performed by Zoë, with Jesse Snider serving as co-director and Alicia Utecht serving as assistant director.
- Dr. Shelley Rawlins, Alex Lockwood, & Janine Armstrong presented their paper titled "Protesting Identities: Identity Form(ation) Within a Movement" at the OSCLG Conference on October 1st, in Minneapolis, MN.
- Janine Armstrong also presented a paper titled "Moving the Invisible into the Visible; Moving Between Theory and Practice in the Classroom" at the OSCLG conference.
- Dr. Jonny Gray was awarded a CoLA Pedagogy Exploration grant to develop the Advanced Public Speaking course into a Digital Public Speaking course.
- Dr. Randy Auxier's chapter titled, "Adjusted Norms: A Deweyan Analysis of Education after the Pandemic of 2020" was just published in a special issue of Dewey Studies: An On-line Publication of the John Dewey Society. The special issue is titled "Deweyan Education in a Post-Pandemic World." Read the full paper here: <http://www.johndeweyociety.org/dewey-studies/files/2022/09/DS-6.1-7-Auxier.pdf>
- Dr. Randy Auxier also gave a talk at the Living According to Nature: Historic and Contemporary Perspectives conference on September 14th. His talk was titled, "Eating According to Nature: A Whiteheadian Ode to Slow Food Culture." This event was hosted by the University of Wrocław.

Upcoming Events!

- Oct. 13:
  - Drag Nun Ruins Story Time
    - 8pm
    - Kleinau Theatre
- Oct. 27 - 29
  - Sound Story
    - 8pm
    - Kleinau Theatre
- Oct. 31:
  - CMST Day!
    - 10am - 3pm
    - Faner Breezeway

Follow us on Social Media!

<https://linktr.ee/SIUCMST>

